Red Cross

Together, we can save a life

Dear Philip,

Thank you for your generous gift to support American Red Cross services to members of the military and their families. The Red Cross network of nearly 900 chapters and 108 stations help military members all over the world to communicate with their loved ones in the event of an emergency. Your gift enables the Red Cross to continue its work keeping military families connected during times of crisis. Today, thousands of U.S. service men and women turn to Armed Forces Emergency Services employees and volunteers every day to communicate with their families.

In the span of one year we assisted more than 615,000 families to communicate urgent messages regarding a serious illness, death of a loved one or the birth of a child. At Red Cross offices on military installations and chapters we keep families connected when it matters most. Demand for services has increased significantly and remains at record levels. Your contribution allow these services to continue. Again, thank you.

Please continue to visit us at RedCross.org to see how we're using your donation to make a difference; and for the most current safety and preparedness information, and disaster updates.
